4th-6th

Our main theme of the week is Fourth of July! We will be learning more about our country's Declaration of Independence through videos, informational texts, and national symbols. We will also be reviewing academic skills through a new online program we piloted last week. This program is called Freckle Education. This is an online program that guides students in reviewing grade level math, reading, social studies, and science. You are welcome to use this program at home, too. Login information will be sent home with the students.
